

I oppose CBA's attempt to impose the federal "established business relationship" exemption on Indiana consumers in which any company that I have a businesses relationship with can call me as often as they want. Over an eighteen-month period, that could translate to over 800,000,000 more unwanted phone calls to me and other Indiana residents.

I oppose any weakening of Indiana's law.